

English Language

Subject content

English Language at A Level is very different from your studies at GCSE. Studying English at an advanced level introduces you to the world of linguistics (the science of language). This doesn't mean test tubes and chemicals, but instead looks at how and why language makes us human. One component of the course involves the study of language in relation to the individual and society. This includes analysing and comparing a wide variety of texts, and studying children's spoken and written language development from 0-11 years. Another component focuses on wider themes of language diversity and change, with essay-writing about these topics and analysis of texts presenting ideas, attitudes and opinions about them. There are also opportunities to produce your own writing about language topics and ideas. In addition there is a more individual element where you will produce your own data-based language investigation, based on independent research, and a piece of original writing with a commentary. AQA English Language course specifications

[<http://filestore.aqa.org.uk/resources/english/specifications/AQA-7701-7702-SP-2015.PDF>]

Specific entry requirements

GCSE Grade 5 or above in English Language.

Assessment

This subject will be assessed by external examination and coursework (the language investigation).

Progression opportunities

An A Level in English Language is valued by both Higher Education establishments and employers, since it shows a high level of communication skills and the ability to think analytically. Popular career choices include teacher (primary/secondary/Further Education or teacher of English as a Foreign Language), speech therapist, lawyer, librarian, journalist or roles in media and communications.

Last updated: 1st September 2021

Want to apply?

Visit <https://bsfc.madeinbarnsley.co.uk/apply> to get started

Call us on 01226 216 123